Scott, Downey -

1st attachment is the comms plan our team put together with much appreciated help from Tim and Micah.

2nd attachment is the state-by-state media list, as well as targeted media in the specific markets of the monuments.

These are living documents and we're still adding to them, but I think we've got a good foundation here, a good plan to execute.

We'll keep refining it and adding to our lists, but wanted to send so you could review soonest.

Let me know your thoughts and if you have any questions or want to walk through it.

thank you,

Russell

SECTION I: INTRODUCTION

Plan Title: Monument Review DOI Comms Rollout Plan

What is the action triggering this communications plan? (Please explain in no more than three sentences. Additional background information may be included in the appendix)

What is the proposed date for this action? Why has it been selected? Is it flexible?

Which office is leading this communications effort and which other programs, regions or groups are involved?

What is our ultimate goal here beyond simply informing people of this action? (How do we want audiences to regard the Department as a result of this action?)

What story do we want to tell? (What should audiences understand, appreciate or connect with emotionally?)

SECTION III: ASSESSING STAKEHOLDER INTEREST AND POSITION

External audiences (Please name up to five target audiences to inform the messages, tactics and stakeholder contact lists below. Be as specific as possible. Only list media if there are issue-specific outlets that merit targeting. General "media" and "the public" should not be used)

Internal audiences (Please note any audiences within the Department of the Interior)

Which groups or individuals may publicly oppose this action? What are their primary concerns? (This may include any or all of those described in Target Audiences and/or additional ones. Write "none" if no opposition is expected)

What stakeholder groups or third-party validators might be leveraged for a statement, quote or other supportive action?

SECTION IV: KEY MESSAGES

What are our topline, big picture messages? (These should be top concepts that readers should take away, including an understanding of why this action matters and why they should care, not a list of facts, which should be placed in the appendix. List no more than three!)

What secondary messages are there? (Again, these are messages, not facts. Divide these by audience if appropriate)

APPENDIX: ADDITIONAL BACKGROUND INFORMATION AND MATERIALS

SECTION I: INTRODUCTION

Plan Title: Monument Review DOI Comms Rollout Plan

What is the action triggering this communications plan? (Please explain in no more than three sentences. Additional background information may be included in the appendix)

Potential Release by the White House of the National Monument Review report with Secretary Ryan Zinke's recommendations. This review was put into effect by President Trump's Executive Order 13792, entitled "Review of Designations under the Antiquities Act."

What is the proposed date for this action? Why has it been selected? Is it flexible?

This action will be driven by if and when the WH releases the report. For planning purposes, we will prepare to begin this rollout on (b)(5) DPP

Which office is leading this communications effort and which other programs, regions or groups are involved?

DOI Office of Communications is leading the effort and External & Intergovernmental Affairs and Congressional Affairs are supporting.

SECTION II: GOALS

What is our ultimate goal here beyond simply informing people of this action? (How do we want audiences to regard the Department as a result of this action?)

President Trump and Secretary Zinke's priority is to protect public access to public lands for the benefit and enjoyment of the people. This means protecting private property rights and protecting and expanding access to hunting, fishing, and recreation.

Three key points:

- We're not going to drill in public parks
- We're not going to sell public lands
- We'll protect objects in the "smallest area compatible" with the proper care of the objects to be protected.

What story do we want to tell? (What should audiences understand, appreciate or connect with emotionally?)

Secretary Zinke conducted a review of 27 national monuments designated since 1996 that were greater than 100,000 acres or that were created without adequate public input. Secretary Zinke issued his final report to the White House on (b)(5) DPP

Secretary Zinke recommended that no monument be rescinded or eliminated.

Secretary Zinke recommended boundary and proclamation changes to five monuments: Bears Ears, Grand Staircase-Escalante, Gold Butte, Organ Mountains Desert Peaks, and Cascade Siskiyou National Monuments.

Secretary Zinke recommended proclamation changes only to five additional monuments that were under review to expand public access to the land for activities like hunting, fishing, recreation, and economic development:

SECTION III: ASSESSING STAKEHOLDER INTEREST AND POSITION

External audiences (Please name up to five target audiences to inform the messages, tactics and stakeholder contact lists below. Be as specific as possible. Only list media if there are issue-specific outlets that merit targeting. General "media" and "the public" should not be used)

Intergovernmental stakeholders

- Governors
- Congressional officials
- State and local legislators
- Tribal leaders

Press

- National media
- Local media near affected National Monuments
- Trade/industry press (hunting/fishing, outdoor recreation)

External groups

- Limited government advocates
- Environmental advocacy groups
- General public

Internal audiences (Please note any audiences within the Department of the Interior)

Inside the administration

- President Trump
- White House staff
- DOI employees
- Commerce Department
- USDA U.S. Forest Service
- DOC NOAA

Which groups or individuals may publicly oppose this action? What are their primary concerns? (This may include any or all of those described in Target Audiences and/or additional ones. Write "none" if no opposition is expected)

See SECTION V

What stakeholder groups or third-party validators might be leveraged for a statement, quote or other supportive action?

SECTION IV: KEY MESSAGES

What are our topline, big picture messages? (These should be top concepts that readers should take away, including an understanding of why this action matters and why they should care, not a list of facts, which should be placed in the appendix. List no more than three!)

Secretary Zinke's Statement

"No President should use the authority under the Antiquities Act to restrict public access, prevent hunting and fishing, burden private land, or eliminate traditional land uses, unless such action is needed to protect the object.

"The recommendations I sent to the president on national monuments include no eliminations of national monuments. The recommendations will maintain federal ownership of all federal land and protect the land under federal environmental regulations, and also provide a much needed change for the local communities who border and rely on these lands for hunting and fishing, economic development, traditional uses, and recreation."

What secondary messages are there? (Again, these are messages, not facts. Divide these by audience if appropriate)

TPs on Monuments and Sportsmen

Access to public lands is absolutely vital to hunting and fishing. It's one thing to say land is "public land" however if the land is physically inaccessible or certain uses are banned, problems arise.

- While the Antiquities Act has been widely successful over history, problems arise, when the designation limits land management practices and how people can use these public lands.
- Recently, proclamations have removed guarantees for recreational access and hunting from management plans as wilderness designations have become a favorite tool of environmentalists.
- Anti-hunting groups often push for monument designations and simultaneously plan to lobby for bans on hunting and shooting access during the management plan process which occurs after designation.

TPs on the EO and background on AA

- The Antiquities Act calls for the President to designate objects such as "historic landmarks, historic and prehistoric structures, and other objects of historic or scientific interest.
- The Antiquities Act mandates that the limits of the parcels of land reserved as National Monuments "shall be confined to the smallest area compatible with the proper care and management of the objects to be protected."
- Despite this clear directive, objects have been extended to include landscape areas, biodiversity, and view sheds, and 'smallest area' has become the exception and not the rule.
- Many of the most controversial national monuments were designated or expanded in the waning days of a presidency after partisan efforts to designate the land stalled in Congress. This is a clear violation of the will of the People and an overuse of executive power.
- Presidents have reduced the size of monuments about a dozen times in the past. The most significant reduction was in 1915 under President Woodrow Wilson, when he halved Mount Olympus National Monument (it has since become a National Park).
- On April 26, 2017, President Donald J. Trump signed Executive Order 13792, entitled "Review of Designations under the Antiquities Act."
- President Trump's executive order limited the review to monuments designated after January 1, 1996 and over 100,000 acres in size, or monuments that the Secretary deems to have been created without adequate public input.
- The order directed the Secretary to submit an interim report on Bears Ears National Monument within 45 days. The report was delivered to the White House on June 10, 2017.
- The order directed the Secretary to submit a report on all other monuments under review within 120 days, which is August 24, 2017.

TPs on the Monument Review Process

- The Secretary opened up of a formal comment period for the review. This is the first time ever that a formal comment period was open on regulations.gov for national monuments designated under the Antiquities Act.
- Secretary Zinke has visited eight national monument sites in six states (Bears Ears, Grand Staircase, Northeast Canyons and Seamounts Marine Monument, Katahdin Woods and Waters, Cascade Siskyou, Organ Mountains Desert Peaks, Gold Butte, and Basin and Range). He's held dozens of meetings with Tribal, local and state government officials, local stakeholders, and advocates from conservation, agriculture, tourism, and historic preservation organizations. The Secretary meets with people and organizations who represent all sides of the issue.
- Interior also established a formal public comment period for the monument review. This is the first time ever a formal comment period occurred for Antiquities Act-designated National Monuments.

Fact and Fiction of the Monument Review:

Myth: No president has shrunk a monument.

False: Monuments have been shrunk at least ten times under presidents on both sides of the aisle. Some examples include Pres. John F. Kennedy removing 2882 acres from Bandelier, Presidents Taft, Wilson, Coolidge reducing Mount Olympus National Monument, and President Eisenhower reducing Great Sand Dunes National Monument in Colorado

Myth: The monument review will sell/transfer public lands to states

False: This is not true. The Secretary is adamantly opposed to the sale or transfer of public lands. Under the Antiquities Act, the monuments are designated on already federal land. Therefore, if any monument is rescinded or shrunk, the land would remain federally owned and be managed by one of the land management agencies such as the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and the National Park Service.

Myth: The monument review will close/sell/transfer national parks

False: No national parks are under review, and the Secretary has continually committed he is against the sale/transfer/privatization of public lands, especially national parks. While some of the monuments are managed by the National Park Service - much like historic sites, national recreation areas, and national seashores - none of them are National Parks.

Myth: The review was done without meeting advocates for national monuments

False: The Secretary visited eight monuments in six states and personally had more than 60 meetings with hundreds of local stakeholders. Individuals and organizations represented all sides of the debate ranging from environmental organizations like the Wilderness Society and Nature Conservancy to county commissioners and, residents, and ranchers who prefer multiple use of the land. The Secretary also met with Tribal government representatives and the Department hosted several Tribal listening sessions.
